POWERFUL BRITISH ARMOURED DRIVE REACHES AMIENS

Americans Advance To Sedan

BRITISH ARMOURED COLUMNS, IN A POWERFUL ADVANCE BETWEEN THE SEINE AND THE SOMME, YESTERDAY ENTERED AMIENS. REUTER AND P.A. REPORTS FROM ALLIED SUPREME H.Q. THIS MORNING STATED THAT THE BRIDGEHEAD OVER THE SOMME AT AMIENS HAD BEEN EXTENDED FOR TWELVE MILES ALONG THE RIVER TO CORBIE.

THE GREAT BRITISH DRIVE COVERED OVER 60 MILES IN TWO DAYS, AND AMIENS WAS REACHED AFTER AN ALL-NIGHT ADVANCE THROUGH MUD AND RAIN. THE ADVANCE THREATENS THE "FLYING BOMB COAST."

Messages from Allied H.Q. state that the British and American onslaughts are meeting with no effective German resistance anywhere.

American forces crossed the Meuse and, driving on Charleville, are only ten miles from the Belgian frontier.

Rouen, where for some days the Germans have been putting up resistance with artillery and mortars, was taken yesterday by the Canadians.

The Americans are advancing on Compiegne through the Forest of Compiegne, where the Armistice was signed in 1918.

From Press Association Correspondent at Allied Supreme H.Q.

British armoured columns made their greatest and swiftest advance since the invasion began, to cross the Somme at Amiens.

Driving north through Beauvais, and converging on Amiens in two columns, the British have advanced 60 miles in the last two days. This dash behind the "rocket coast" of Northern France has equalled in speed and power the exploits of General Patton's U.S. 3rd Army, on the right.

Amiens fell yesterday afternoon, and Beauvais the previous evening. The 27 miles between them were covered in little more than 12 hours, one column driving through Grand Villiers and the other through Catheux.

BIG WITHDRAWAL

The British entry into Amiens and their immediate establishment of a strong bridgehead over the Somme can only mean that there is a great German withdrawal towards Belgium. Between Amiens and the Belgian frontier there is no area which would lend itself to a stand by the Germans on a wide front.

The advance elements in Amiens are being followed up by three strong columns of tanks, armoured cars and motorised infantry driving forward on a broad front.

One of these armoured formations covered 40 miles in 24 hours.

Amiens is the "back entrance" to the Pas de Calais. If the Germans try to hold their flying bomb bases they are in danger of being encircled on the coast. Yesterday Allied bombers attacked the dumps in which flying bombs are stored in the Pas de Calais.

ENCIRCLED

The Germans in the coastal area between the Somme, west of Amiens, and the Seine, east of Rouen, are already as good as encircled.

Broadcasting from Northern France, a C.B.S. reporter said last night that the Canadians are less than 20 miles from Dieppe, which, together with Le Havre, is completely outflanked.

The establishment of a firm bridgehead at Amiens across the three bridges over the Somme means that the Germans have no fixed line to fall back to.

American forces have crossed the River Meuse, and, driving on Charleville, are only ten miles from the Belgian border, said a despatch from Reuter's correspondent with the 1st U.S. Army last night.

IN OUTSKIRTS

These forces are in the outskirts of Sedan and are driving on towards the Forest of Ardennes.

The American forces are thus almost back to the spot where the Germans launched their surprise move into Belgium in 1940. The Germans struck through the Forest of Ardennes with tank formations, and the Allies were obliged to evacuate Namur and Sedan. Within two days the Germans had crossed the Meuse and outflanked the Maginot Line.

Just a week after reaching the Meuse the Germans were on the Somme at Amiens and had reached the Channel coast.—(Reuter.)

In Brittany the almost forgotten siege of Brest came a stage nearer the end yesterday with the clearing of the Germans from the Peninsula of Daoulas, south of the port.

German Losses in France Over 400,000

A REPORT on German losses in France, submitted by the Allied Supreme Commander to the Combined Chiefs of Staff, was issued from Allied Supreme Headquarters last night. It covers operations in Northern France between June 6th (D-Day) and August 25th.

The report sets out the German losses as follows:—

Total German Casualties:—Over 400,000 killed, wounded and prisoners.

Prisoners of War:—Over 200,000. Of these 135,000 were captured since July 25th, and the total continues to mount.

The equivalent of five panzer divisions have been destroyed, and a further six severely mauled, including one panzer grenadier division.

The equivalent of twenty infantry divisions have been eliminated and a further twelve very badly cut up and have suffered severe losses.

Included in this total of infantry divisions are three crack parachute divisions.

In addition, one parachute division and two infantry divisions have no hope of escape from the fortress ports of the Brittany peninsula, in which they are marooned.

One infantry division is isolated in the Channel Islands.

1,300 TANKS

1,300 German tanks and over 20,000 motor vehicles have been captured or destroyed. About 500 assault guns and 1,500 field and heavier artillery guns have been captured or destroyed. In addition, the Germans suffered very heavy losses in coast artillery equipment.

The German 7th Army and the newly-formed 5th Panzer Army have been decisively defeated, and into this defeat have been drawn the bulk of the fighting strength of the 1st and 15th Armies.

Three Field-Marshals and one Army Commander have either been dismissed or incapacitated by wounds.

One Army Commander, three Corps Commanders, fifteen Divisional Commanders and one Fortress Commander have been either killed or captured.

PLANE LOSSES

In the air the Luftwaffe has taken a fearful beating, adds the report. Since June 6th 2,378 German aircraft have been destroyed in the air and 1,167 on the ground. In addition 270 aircraft were probably destroyed and 1,028 aircraft were damaged in the air.

At sea the Germans have been unable, in spite of their former boasting, to interfere seriously with the invasion forces. Attacks on convoys have been driven off on very many occasions, and losses to Allied shipping have been small. Of the German naval forces, some 300 vessels of all classes have been sunk or heavily damaged by Allied action.

In addition, a number of German merchant ships have been sunk, and the Germans have been forced to scuttle in their harbours large numbers of all types of shipping, both naval and mercantile.

A large proportion of the Germans' effort has been devoted to attack by mine-laying. The sustained work of mine-sweepers has resulted within three months in a "mine-bag" off the French beaches which totals one-tenth of all mines swept in five years in all theatres of war.

Allied team-work, extending through all Services, has demonstrated its ability to overcome the most adverse kind of conditions in defeating the Germans. Allied units from other countries have fought effectively alongside American and British forces, and the F.F.I. have done much valuable work.

"GREAT VICTORY"

The command system has functioned smoothly, in spite of difficulties, due to enforced separation of commanders and of poor signal communications, due to distances and rapidly changing situation.

Many factors are woven into the warp and woof of this great victory. One was meticulous care in planning and preparation, supported resolutely in all important aspects by the Combined Chiefs-of-Staff. Another was the fact that we achieved some degree of surprise.

The excellence and sufficiency of amphibious equipment, with measures for dealing with beach defences and obstacles, was also important.

The brilliant preparatory work of the air forces, a belief in the effectiveness of which was the very corner-stone of the original invasion conception, began months ago, and reached its intensity at the very moment of the landing.

"It is my conviction," says General Eisenhower, "that except for this aerial preparation, including as a specific mission a prolonged campaign against the transportation systems of north-west Europe, the venture could not have logically been undertaken. The air support of ground forces has been most effective throughout the campaign.

"The supply and maintenance services have performed miracles. But the greatest factor of all has been the fighting qualities of the soldiers, sailors and airmen of the United Nations. Their valour, stamina and devotion to duty have been beyond praise. They will continue to be."

U.S. CASUALTIES

Mr. Robert Patterson, U.S. Acting Secretary for War, stated yesterday that total American casualties in South France up to August 24th were 6,337, of which 1,247 were killed or missing. U.S. Army casualties in all theatres up to August 31st totalled 284,838, of which 53,101 were killed. In North and South France the Allies have taken 235,000 prisoners.—(Reuter.)

HOLD-UP IN PUBLICATION OF DICTIONARY

THE first proofs of a biographical dictionary of Irish writers, the first of its kind compiled here, initiated and for the past year financed by the Irish Academy of Letters, will be produced at the annual meeting of the Council of the Academy to-day. The Academy's funds, an Irish Times reporter learned, are now exhausted, and the work of compiling the dictionary cannot be carried on without more money. So far, the dictionary has got as far as "Cooper, Bryan Ricco."

Declaring that the Academy is less wealthy than eminent, the meeting to-day will ask support from other learned bodies, publishers and private persons.

Last night our reporter was told: "Since no dictionary of the kind had previously been compiled in Ireland, the area was entirely unmapped, and neither the editor nor his helpers had more than a rough general idea of the extent of the task they had undertaken. Their original intention was to produce a work, biographical, bibliographical and critical, which should include every Irish writer who had published a book in English, and this was afterwards extended to include also the relatively small number of such writers in Irish. The question of nationality was settled in accordance with the first Irish Constituion—that is anybody who could have claimed Irish nationality, had he or she been alive in 1921, was deemed to be Irish. The term book was held to exclude pamphlets."

Each writer is to be given 200 to 2,000 words in the dictionary, which will deal with the writer's date and place of birth and death, parentage, education, religion, marriage, children, etc.

Under A, B, and C nearly a thousand names were card-indexed, and over seven hundred entries were written. The war added enormously to the difficulties of the compilers. Not only was reference to the great English, American, and foreign libraries almost impossible, but the National Library and the Library of Trinity College had to put many of their more valuable books in inaccessible places of safety.

ONLY AWARD

The award of the Lady Gregory Medal will be part of the business at the meeting to-day. The Gregory Medal, awarded every three years, is the only award now made by the Academy. The Harmsworth Casement and other awards were dropped at the beginning of the war.

The Academy does not initiate awards; it decides on the destination of honours.

Defending charges of inactivity by some writers, the Secretary, Mr. Lennox Robinson, said that it holds regular and annual meetings, and does what it can for the arts. Many of its 35 members, Padraic Colum, St. John Ervine, Dr. Gogarty, Robert Lynd, Desmond McCarthy, Frank O'Connor, Liam O'Flaherty, Eugene O'Neill, G. B. Shaw, Walter Starkie, James Stephens, L. A. G. Strong, etc., do not reside in this country.

U-Boat Claims.—Yesterday's German communiqué said: "In the Channel and in the Indian Ocean U-boats, after hard combat, sank six enemy vessels, aggregating 36,000 tons, as well as a destroyer and an escort vessel, and shot down one enemy plane."—(Reuter.)

Bucharest Taken By Russian Army

AN Order of the Day from Marshal Stalin to General Malinovsky, announcing the fall of Bucharest and the entry of the Russian troops, was broadcast by Moscow Radio last night. The Order stated:—

"Troops of the Second Ukrainian Front, as the result of a swift offensive, routed the grouping of German troops in the area of Ploesti and south of Ploesti, and to-day, August 31st, entered the town of Bucharest.

"Our troops have thus liquidated the German threat to the Rumanian capital from the north."

A salute of 24 salvoes from 324 guns was ordered.

Last night's Soviet communiqué said, in part:—

"Troops of the second Ukrainian front, as the result of a swift offensive, routed the German grouping in the area of Ploesti and south of the town, and to-day, August 31st, entered Bucharest.

"Continuing their offensive, these troops liberated over 250 inhabited localities.

"On August 31st, north-east of Praga, our troops successfully repulsed enemy infantry and tank attacks; and, as the result of counter-attacks, considerably improved their positions, and captured the town and railway station of Radzymin.

"During August 30th, troops of the Second Ukrainian Front captured from the encircled enemy grouping over 7,000 prisoners. Among them was the Commander of the 76th German Infantry Division, Major-General Stingle, who was also Commandant of Jassy. Among the killed was the body of the Commander of the 4th German Army Corps, General of Infantry Nisch.

"West and south of Constanza, our troops continued their offensive, and occupied several towns, including the towns of Medgidia and Carmen Sylva. On other sectors of the front there was reconnaissance activity.

"Yesterday, on all fronts, our troops disabled or destroyed 27 enemy tanks, and shot down eight planes."

Bucharest is the centre of Rumania's railway system, as well as the pivotal point of its great oil industry. It lies in the valley of the Dimbovita, 35 miles north of the Danube, and marks the centre of the Wallachian Basin, says Reuter. In addition to oil plants, there are also engineering and iron works, and the Malaxa Locomotive Works is four miles to the east. The aerodrome is a few miles to the north-west, in the suburb of Baneasa.

Targets in Bucharest have been attacked repeatedly since last April by M.A.A.F. aircraft, the last time on August 26th, the day after Bucharest radio had said the whole of the capital was liberated from the Germans.

Behind the front line Russian fire-fighting squads, assisted by Rumanian workers and engineers, are subduing the fires started by the Germans in the oil wells at Ploesti.

Soviet patrols continue active across the East Prussian frontier, where powerful Red Army units are waiting.

Meanwhile Soviet troops are nearing Bulgaria's frontier and big forces are moving up towards Transylvania.

Colonel von Hammer, the German commentator, said last night: "The town of Radzymin, north of Warsaw, is in Russian hands, after six successive attacks."

Radzymin is about 12 miles north of Warsaw, on the road from Lomza to Warsaw.—(Reuter.)

Carmen Sylva

THE town of Carmen Sylva, announced as captured by the Red Army in last night's Russian communiqué, bears the pen-name of Queen Elizabeth, the wife of the first King of Rumania. Her literary activities included many volumes of poems and stories. The town, which is on the Black Sea coast, was one of her favourite resorts.

BULGARIA WILL BE OCCUPIED

BULGARIA will be occupied by Allied troops the moment peace terms are accepted, Algiers radio said last night, quoting Cairo political circles.

Moscow radio, quoting a Soviet News Agency observer, said yesterday:—"It must be pointed out that the Bulgarian Government has been violating its declaration on neutrality from the very start. It is well known that German war vessels continued to be harboured in the Bulgarian waters of the Danube and the Black Sea.

"Bulgarian troops continue fighting against the Yugo-Slavs and the Greeks side by side with the Germans. The Bulgarian Government has allowed the German troops to leave Bulgaria with their equipment.

"Part of the German equipment is being accepted by the Bulgarian Government in payment of German commerce engagements. Such transactions prove once again the falsity of the Bulgarian Government, and show Bagrianov's real intentions not to break collaboration with Hitler's Germany."

NO WITHDRAWAL

Reuter's Ankara Correspondent quoted Bulgarian circles as saying that the Bulgarian expeditionary forces are being withdrawn from Yugo-Slavia proper, Bosnia and Montenegro, but that no withdrawal has been ordered from territories to which Bulgaria lays claim—Serbian and Greek Macedonia and Greek Thrace.

The Soviet Press published a despatch from Constanza to the official Soviet News Agency reporting that a few days ago 23 armed German ships arrived to join others already in the Bulgarian Danube port of Ruschuk. The vessels were not interned, and the report added: "German ships, including submarines, are hiding in the Bulgarian ports of Varna and Burgas."

The Bulgars have sealed the Turkish-Bulgarian frontier, according to a A.P. cable from Istanbul.

OBSCURE

The situation in Rumania is still obscure, Wilhelmstrasse circles, quoted by Berlin radio, say. Nothing is known of the fate of the German Legation in Bucharest. It is believed that the Rumanian Armistice Delegation have already begun their talks with Soviet representatives in Moscow, states Reuter.

The Budapest correspondent of the Anatolian (Turkish) Agency reported that Hungarian troops are preparing to invade Rumanian Translyvania to oppose the Russian armies, or possibly the Rumanians, who otherwise could easily descend on the Hungarian plain.

Authoritative Hungarian circles are quoted as saying that this is a measure of self-defence, "prompted by the openly proclaimed intention of the Rumanians to amputate a part of Hungarian territory."

General Lakatos, the new Hungarian Prime Minister, will hold the first full meeting of his Cabinet to-day, said the Hungarian Telegraph Agency.

CROAT RESHUFFLE

A broadcast from Zagreb last night announced a re-shuffle in the Croat Cabinet. Dr. Lorkovic, Minister of the Interior, and Ante Vokic, Minister of the Armed Forces and of Communications, have been relieved of their duties. Colonel Mate Frkovic, a Ustashi leader, is the new Minister of the Interior, Vice-Admiral Nikola Steinfel, is to be Minister of the Armed Forces, and Dr. Joza Dumandzic, a State Councillor, will hold the portfolio of Communications. The present Commander-in-Chief, Lieutenant-General Matija Canic, has been removed from his post, and the new War Minister will himself discharge these duties.

Later the German News Agency announced that the Director of Public Order and Security had also been replaced by a Ustashi leader, Colonel Lisak. The Police President of Zagreb has been dismissed, and the Ustashi Major Karin replaces him.

The Ustashi, states Reuter, can be described as the Croat equivalent of the German S.S.—(Reuter and A.P.)

Pope's Broadcast This Evening

THE Pope will speak for nearly half an hour when he broadcasts a message to the world this evening on the occasion of the fifth anniversary of the outbreak of war, states the Universe.

Vatican Radio will broadcast his address on three wave lengths, and a version in English will follow at 7 p.m. (Irish Time). The Pope's message will be relayed by Radio Eireann at 6.30 and at 7 p.m.

NEW POLISH PROGRAMME

A NEW and open approach by the Polish Government in London to the Soviet Government, for establishing friendly relations between the two States was outlined by M. Mikolajczyk, the Prime Minister, in London, last night. He described the new programme as of momentous importance to the future of his country, states Frank King, Press Association diplomatic correspondent.

In drafting the new agreement, which has been approved by the Polish Underground Parliament, and has been forwarded to Moscow as the unanimous decision of both the Government and the home country, the Polish Government was actuated, said the Prime Minister, by the following motives:—The anxiety to retain the full independence and sovereignty of Poland; a sincere desire to establish lasting and friendly Polish-Soviet relationship, including a Polish-Soviet alliance; to provide a basis for international collaboration by the positive solution of the Polish situation; to base Polish policy, in addition to friendship with the Soviet Union, on permanent alliances between Poland and Britain, France and Czechoslovakia, and on close relations with the United States, to secure the world against further aggression. A new constitutional declaration will be promulgated containing the outline of the future régime in Poland. In the meantime, the creation of a War Cabinet on the British pattern is being considered.

PREMIER'S MESSAGE

Mr. Churchill, in a message to Poland, declares that the world is watching the heroic struggle for freedom in Warsaw. "For five years," says the message, "despite the most barbarous treatment at the hands of the Nazi thugs and torturers, Polish courage and Polish constancy have never faltered. At home and abroad, the Poles have remained at one in their determination to continue with the United Nations the struggle against the German oppressors of their country.

"The day of liberation is drawing near, and at this time it is fitting that we should pay homage to all those gallant Poles who have continued the struggle against terrible odds, and earned the lasting admiration of all free peoples.

"From their sacrifices a new Poland will be born."

Germany has replied to the British Government statement that the Polish Home Army should be regarded as a recognised combatant force, stated the German News Agency last night. "Under international law," the Agency said, "the Government general (Poland) forms part of the Reich, and the provisions of The Hague Convention, therefore, do not apply. Persons who band themselves together there must be regarded as insurgents."

Czechoslovaks 30 Miles From Soviet Lines

Czechoslovak forces hold almost the entire Slovak territory, and are only 30 miles from the Russian front line, according to Headquarters of the Czechoslovak armed forces.

Yesterday's communiqué reported continued heavy fighting for the towns of Zilina (important railway junction in Central Slovakia), Trnava (a garrison town of 25,000 inhabitants on the main railway line from Zilina to Bratislava), and Galanta (a junction of the Bratislava-Budapest and Zilina-Bratislava railways).

"The Czechoslovak forces hold almost the entire Slovak territory, with the exception of the border areas in the west and east," the communiqué said.

Lucenec and Galanta are in the part of Slovakia ceded to Hungary under the Munich agreement in 1938. The communiqué thus indicates that the Czechoslovak forces have crossed into Hungarian-held territory, states Reuter.

Montgomery Promoted Field-Marshal

THE British War Office announces that the King has approved the promotion of General Sir Bernard Montgomery to be Field-Marshal, supernumerary to establishment, as from to-day.

General Montgomery is one of the few Generals to be promoted Field-Marshal without having been Chief of the Imperial General Staff, the highest Army appointment. There are now 15 Field-Marshals.

He relinquished command of the Eighth Army in Italy to take up his job as Commander-in-Chief, British group of armies in France. General Montgomery is 56. He was made a full General in 1942.

A Field-Marshal holding a paid military appointment receives no additional pay as a Field-Marshal. The rank carries no command. If he is unemployed—all the British Field-Marshals were at the outbreak of war—he receives half-pay of the rank, that is £1,629 a year. A Field-Marshal never receives full pay.

Field-Marshal Montgomery.

Price of Petrol Reduced

From to-day there will be a reduction of 3d. per gallon in the current maximum prices of motor spirit and paraffin. This follows a reduction in wholesale prices. The new prices of motor spirit, from tins and barrels, in the Dublin zone will be 3s. 3½d., and from pumps 3s. 3d. Elsewhere the corresponding prices will be 3s. 4½d. and 3s. 4d. The new price for paraffin will be 1s. 9½d. per gal.

AMERICAN TROOPS NEAR ITALIAN FRONTIER

AMERICAN forces yesterday reached Nice, according to a communiqué from Allied Mediterranean H.Q. They are now about fifteen miles from the Italian frontier, and are pressing onwards.

The occupation by American troops of Valence, the most important town remaining in the Rhone Valley, is announced by Reuter's Special Correspondent at Allied H.Q.

French troops have reached L'Argentière, twenty-five miles south-west of Montélimar, and forward elements have entered Béziers and Narbonnes. They met with no opposition.

Algiers Radio last night stated that Bordeaux and Chambéry, about midway between Lyons and the Italian border, have been occupied by French Forces of the Interior.

Valence lies about fifty-six miles south of Lyons, and a road from Chambéry joins the main route up the Rhone Valley at Valence.

ADVANCE CONTINUES

Yesterday's Allied communiqué said that Seventh Army troops had overcome the resistance of the withdrawing Germans north of the Drôme River at Livron, and were continuing their advance northwards up the Rhône Valley.

The communiqué continued:—"West of the Rhône, French troops have advanced further northwards to the vicinity of Bourg St. Andéoil, where resistance has been encountered.

"On the Riviera, American troops have moved eastward through Nice. The enemy is making extensive use of mines to hinder the advance in this area.

"We Must Summon All Our Strength"

—DR. GOEBBELS

Dr. Goebbels, in his weekly article in Das Reich, quoted by German radio, yesterday stated that the United Nations were determined to force a decision in the war this year, and that the development of new German weapons could not be immediately effective.

"We must summon all our strength to overcome the enormous difficulties before us," he said.

"The enemies of Germany are set on forcing a decision this year, and the development of Germany's new arms, which would offset the vast Allied superiority in men and material, cannot come with such speed as to be immediately effective. That is the dilemma which confronts us.

"We do not intend to serve up a new miracle weapon by which alone we could hope for a turn in the fortunes of war.

"It cannot be denied at present that our morale is far higher than our technical war potential. We must now employ all our energy and resources to bring the latter up to the standard of the former.

"To-day is it irrevelant where we fight. All that matters is that we do fight."

Germans Remove "V-1" Equipment

The German News Agency yesterday implied that all flying bomb equipment had been removed from the V-One bases captured by the Allies. "The German V-One is not tied to fixed bases, and is adapting itself to the war of movement," the Agency said, according to a Reuter telegram.

"Bunkers and earthworks which the British and Americans supposed were flying bomb sites were evacuated. Only empty shells fell into Anglo-American hands. The vital parts of the equipment and the secret of the V-One were nowhere captured by the Anglo-Americans."

Fighters of Air Defence of Great Britain and guns of Anti-Aircraft Command continued to take toll of flying bombs directed against Southern England on Wednesday night and early yesterday, says the British Air Ministry News Service. A number of the missiles dealt with by the fighters was exploded harmlessly in the air or sea.

A British Air Ministry and Ministry of Home Security communiqué stated: "Since early this morning the enemy has directed flying bombs at frequent intervals over the Southern Counties and the London area. They caused damage and casualties."

BLOOD TRANSFUSION CENTRE FOR DUBLIN

ACTING on the advice of the National Blood Transfusion Council, the Department of Defence is arranging to establish a blood donation centre at 115 Grafton street, Dublin. The centre will be part of a scheme to secure voluntary donations in connection with the preparation of serum.

At this centre, in the course of a few weeks, prospective donors will be able to volunteer their services, have their blood typed and their physical fitness as blood donors assessed. Here, also, the actual blood donations will be taken from the volunteers. Trained personnel will be in charge of the arrangements, and the actual donation of blood is a very simple, painless process.

The necessity for the establishment of the centre arises from the need of a reserve of blood serum to meet emergency purposes. For some years past the Department of Defence has been engaged in the production of serum, and donors have been found mainly from the Defence Forces. In addition, members of the Irish Red Cross Society have come forward, and for some time past members of the L.D.F. in the Dublin area have been giving donations. Experience has shown that the rate of production of the serum has not been high enough to enable an adequate stock to be maintained to meet an emergency. The National Blood Transfusion Council has advised that the minimum stock required is 1,000 bottles, and to produce one bottle of serum approximately 3 pints of blood are needed. It is anticipated that not less than 5,000 donors will be required to enable the thousand bottles to be produced.

URGENT NEED

In Dublin last year the Dublin Blood Transfusion Service was called upon to provide 1,500 donors for blood transfusion in severely injured, burned or anæmic cases, as well as numerous operation and maternity cases in hospitals. Under emergency conditions the giving of personal donations of blood in the initial stages of treatment would be almost impossible, having regard to the difficulty of securing the attendance of the donors at short notice and the possibility of large numbers of donations being required. Furthermore, it would not be feasible to arrange for the storage of large quantities of whole blood, which can only be stored for about ten days. Medical Research has indicated that blood derivatives, such as plasma and serum—which can be stored for long periods and are available for use immediately the necessity arises—are of equivalent value to whole blood and are much simpler to use. The Department anticipates that, with the establishment of the Blood Donation Centre, it will be in a position to increase its activities in the matter and to provide a sufficient quantity of serum to face up to any emergency.

As an indication of the urgent necessity for the provision of additional supplies of serum, it is pointed out that over 50 per cent. of the supplies manufactured to date have been used in the treatment of urgent peacetime hospital cases. The majority of the cases where it has been found necessary to use the serum has arisen in maternity hospitals.

The Department of Defence announces that it will consider applications for the posts of a medical registrar (male) and a laboratory assistant (male). The registrar must be a registered medical doctor.

A Lucky Purchase For Mrs. Vigors

ALTHOUGH it brought out only five runners, the Feale Handicap produced a terrific finish at Powerstown Park yesterday. Odds were laid on Drybob to follow up his Limerick Junction win, and Moylan got the utmost out of his mount, but he was caught and beaten virtually on the post by Deadwood Dick, with Bilberry third a neck away.

The winner was bought from Mr. David Malone at the last Ballsbridge sales for 120 guineas for Mrs. Vigors, who has had a splendid run of luck with her horses of late.

Mr. M. V. O'Brien got some compensation for the defeat of Drybob, when Good Days, in the hands of Mr. M. J. Mitchell, readily won the Autumn Cup. The young Co. Cork trainer completed a double when Wren Boy won the Fergus Plate by a length from Mr. Fitz, chiefly due to the strong riding of Mr. G. P. Dodd.

There was further excitement in the Slaney Chase, when the favourite, Sailor Boy, fell at the second last and jumped the rails into the paddock, fortunately without causing any injury. Unseen seemed to have the race at his mercy when he crossed the last fence in front, but he swerved badly as he tackled the hill, and was run out of it by Bennett's Hill.

Cricket Test Match a Probability

WITH Leinster and Pen broke each starting their last match of the competition tomorrow equal in points, there is a distinct possibility that a test match will be required to decide the destination of Senior Cricket League honours To-morrow's matches are:

Phœnix v. Pembroke, at Phœnix Park.
Clontarf v. Leinster, at Castle avenue.
Y.M.C.A. v. Merrion, at Claremont road.

On current form Pembroke should not have much difficulty in dealing with Phœnix, for the Sydney Parade side have shown their best form of the season over the past few weeks, while Phœnix have been on the down grade for some time. Much of the holders' recent bad form, however, might be attributed to having to field weakened teams, whereas to-morrow they will be at full available strength, with plenty of batting ability on the team. The attack has lost a great deal of sting since J. C. Boucher dropped out, however, and may have some difficulty in dealing with Pembroke. who now possess quite substantial run-getting powers even after the first few men have been sent back to the pavilion.

Pembroke's bowling, too, has been doing very solid work of late, backed up by good fielding, and they will be well fancied to take full points from the League holders.

At Castle avenue, Leinster will have a somewhat harder nut to crack. There has been rather a slump in the Rathmines side's stock of late, for a commanding lead in the League some weeks ago has been lost through the team having won only one of their last three matches.

Clontarf, though they are another side who have fallen from former grace, usually play a good deal better at home than away, and in J. W. Hill they have a bowler who has been very good form for some time past, and whose style of delivery will probably be suited by the state of the pitch to-morrow; he might conceivably present the Leinster batsmen with quite a problem. In batting, Clontarf have not been very consistently served by any but N. C. Mahony—he has shown remarkable regularity in hitting up 40 runs or so every week.

With the return of their regular wicket-keeper, C. R. Cuffe, Leinster will be at full strength, and, though they may have to fight hard enough, they seem more likely to gain the points than to lose them.

At Claremont road Y.M.C.A. will probably find Merrion a little too good in a match to which little more than the interest of the clubs concerned attaches.

Phœnix—D. R. Pigot, G. J. Quinn, P. J. Quinn, F. M. Quinn, B. T. Quinn, K. Quinn, J. M. Hanrahan, J. V. Luce, B. V. Fox, N. R Fox, N. O'Dwyer.

Pembroke—J. J. Miller (captain), K. C. Dempsey, B. F. Bergin, S. F. Bergin, G. C. Erskine, K. W Haughton, P. B. Murphy, A. G. Murray, C. O Maille, M. B. Williams, T. C. Williams.

Clontarf—N. C. Mahony, D. Fitzgerald, J. W. Hill, L. Jacobson, L. B. McMahon, J. Caprani, G. Fox, R. Ruddock, S. E. Keegan, W. Cassidy, P. G. Smith.

Leinster—C R. Cuffe (captain), N. H. Lambert, M. Desmond, F. G. Connell, W. H. McClelland, S. H. Law, P. J. Fox, J. B. Gill, C. C. Mannion, J. H. McCarroll, W. Hodgson.

Y.M.C.A.—J. H. Ross (captain), T. A. Beatty, A. T. Begley, G. A. Boate, C. L. Colter, J. Dobson, V. C. Dobson, R. I. Gill, R. W. Lyons, D. Medcalfe, E. C. Smith.

New Plans For Better Hockey

IT is good news to hear that Mr. Dermot Findlater, President of the Leinster Branch of the Irish Hockey Union, is bringing forward a series of propositions regarding the composition of the League at the annual general meeting of the branch this day week. There is nothing particularly fresh or revolutionary in these (writes P. D. MacWeeney), for I have been advocating several of them in these columns for a long time past, but it is most encouraging to see that such an important official as the President of the branch is sponsoring them.

The most important of the proposals is to limit the Senior League to eight clubs, and carrying this plan further, to have eight clubs in all sections of the competition. This would lead to easier working of the different sections, and unquestionably do away with end-of-the-season contention, but it is obviously going to lead to hot argument, as far as the seniors are concerned, as to which clubs will be reduced in status. If Corinthians, St. James's Gate, Dalkey and Avoca School are in danger, delegates of the two first-named can point to a considerable proportion of league wins, and in the case of St. James's Gate, a good record in the Mills Cup.

However, a longer view than mere club interest should be taken into consideration. After the war Irish hockey will benefit enormously from closer contact with the game in England, and this can only be done, as far as the clubs are concerned, by having a lighter domestic programme. It would, obviously, be far better to have this plan tried out before the first post-war season, so this seems a good time to start. Is it too much to hope, after all these years, that the club delegates will take a long view of the management of Irish hockey? I am afraid that I am not optimistic on this score.

UNNECESSARY POSTPONEMENTS

The suggestion that no postponements be granted for league matches on the plea that clubs have two or three of their regular players absent for any reason, should be carried through, despite the fact that there is bound to be a great deal of narrow-minded opposition to it. Many a young player in junior ranks would surprise the seniors if given a chance as substitute for a "regular" who was unable to turn out; yet, under the present system, he never gets his chance, for postponements applied for are nearly always granted.

As to the abolition of the Mills Cup—that stands little chance of success, I am afraid. The plan of eliminating that unnecessary competition and awarding the trophy to the Leinster section winners of the Irish Cup was tried once, and promptly abandoned the following season. I can never see why it should be deemed necessary to have two cup competitions in Dublin during the same part of the season, but there seems no use in like it that way. If the club representatives really give deep consideration to Mr. Findlater's propositions we might have a lively and constructive meeting next week.

RUN ON OCEAN SWELL

Ocean Swell, the Derby winner, was backed at the Victoria Club call-over on the St. Leger yesterday to win £13,500 at odds of 13 to 2. He closed at 6 to 1 offered.

There was a general shortening in the prices of the four favourites, Tehran being supported at 9 to 2 to win £6,000 and Hycilla at 100 to 15 to win £4,500. Only small money went on Borealis, though he advanced from his previous call-over price of 13 to 2 to 11 to 2.

Although Happy Landing was knocked out to 50 to 1, he was backed to win £14,000.

9/2 agst. Tehran, 11/2 Borealis, 6/1 Ocean Swell, 100/15 Hycilla, 22/1 Growing Confidence, 25/1 Hyder Ali, 28/1 Rockefella, 30/1 Red Fife, 33/1 Coastal Traffic and Fair Glint, 50/1 Happy Landing, Orestes, Monsoon and Queen Nitocris.

INGLE TO MEET CLANCY

Promoter Gerald Egan has signed two 10-round contests in support of the main fight between Spike McCormack and Tommy Armour at Dalymount Park, on Friday, September 15th. Jimmy Ingle has a return match with Sean Clancy, and Mick Magee, of Belfast, Northern Ireland light-weight champion, meets John Ingle Two other 10-round contests will be announced shortly.

Treble Crown was taken out of the St. Leger at 11 a.m. (B.S.T.) yesterday.

City Cup Football

LOSS OF A POINT A VITAL MATTER

WITH the Dublin City Football Cup played for on the one-round system, the loss of a point may prove very costly at the final tot up on October 8th. Shamrock Rovers, Dundalk and Brideville made a good start by scoring the maximum, and on the performances of the two teams the odds are all in favour of the Rovers when they meet Drumcondra on Sunday at Milltown.

The Rovers beat them in the President's Cup rather easily (2-0), and at home last Sunday Drumcondra dropped the Cup points to Brideville. Judged on their merits, there is a wide disparity between the teams; but, while there evidently is a reluctance on the part of the Rovers to shoot when the openings come their way, they in their two matches have scored seven goals, five against Limerick. For Sunday's game no changes have been announced, but that does not imply that the respective team builders are satisfied with the displays of certain forwards so far.

EXTRA RACE MEETINGS?

The English flat race season, which this year ends on October 14th, will be extended if proposals made by the Stewards of the Jockey Club to the Government Departments concerned are accepted.

The Stewards have proposed that meetings should be held in the Southern area to take the place of those that have been cancelled, and that, if the war situation allowed, the programmes of racing should be increased by the addition of three more meetings, one in the Northern area, one in the Southern area, and one at Newmarket.

The cancelled meetings were Salisbury on July 8th, Ascot July 15th, and Salisbury July 29th.

KINGSWAY A RUNNER

Kingsway (E. Smith), second favourite for the Champion Stakes, runs for the Southern Plate at Windsor to-morrow. If E. Smith is unable to ride, S. Wragg, who won the 2,000 Guineas on him last year, will have the mount.

Merchant Navy (12.30), Brush Up (2.0), High Stakes (3.0), are other Manton runners at Windsor. Cliff Richards rides.

THREE FOR ST. LEGER "TRIAL."

A small field is likely for the St. Leger "Trial" Stakes at Wingfor to-morrow. Abbots Foil (A. Wragg), who is not engaged in the St. Leger, Glide Away (M. Beary), and Bashful (Gordon Richards) are at present the only probables.

Wooden Shoes Unpopular

Taking advantage of the shortage of leather and tanning materials, some Irish boot manufacturers are flooding the market with substandard material, which is being retailed at prices far in excess of its value, an Irish Times reporter was informed yesterday. In addition, retailers are being forced to accept shipments of wooden-soled shoes and boots for men, women and children by some manufacturers. Should the retailers refuse to take them, supplies of better-quality footwear are withheld.

Prominent members of the retail trade said that they were glad to rid themselves of wooden shoes at losses.. The public has definitely rejected these wooden substitutes, but they continue to buy those cheap shoes which, experience shows, seldom stand up to prolonged hard wear or very wet weather. Shopkeepers refuse to guarantee their goods, because, they say, not even the most expert bootmaker can detect shoddy material or flaws in manufacture. It was thought that the introduction of the wooden type boot would be welcomed in the country districts, but experience of several days' working in wet fields soon shattered that belief.

The tanneries working at full pressure on the limited supplies available are unable to meet the demands of the country, which have increased as a result of war-time conditions, and particularly so since the Dunlop factory at Cork has ceased its normal production of a vast number of rubber boots per year. This has hit the poor people hardest of all, because it was not unusual to see children running about the streets in a pair of Wellingtons in rain or in sunshine.

Several traders have complained of manufacturers using up their lower standard material and reserving first-class leather for use in the post-war period. There is every likelihood that hundreds of Dublin children will go barefoot again next winter.

The retailers are coming in for much unjustified abuse from the customers. They cannot do anything; but they want greater care and supervision exercised by all manufacturers to overcome present-day hardships and to prevent future difficulties.

Examination Papers Criticised

This year, again, colleges, convents and high schools are expressing strong dissatisfaction with the setting and marking of the Leaving Certificate examination papers. The Matriculation results also are causing bitter criticism. What is described as a university basis of examination is stated to have resulted in an unusually large number of failures and a decline in honour awards.

This is the third year in which the secondary school papers have been set by university professors instead of by the Department of Education. Particularly strong criticism is being levelled against the Irish paper, where a forty per cent. mark is demanded to pass.

The principals of two leading Dublin colleges, to whom an Irish Times reporter spoke yesterday, expressed amazement at some of the failures which the results, now announced, reveal. Boys whom they described as proficient in Irish, so far as the college curriculum was concerned, and brilliant in other subjects, did not get their Leaving Certificate, because they failed to reach the standard of Irish demanded in the examination.

Somewhat accustomed after three years to the rigid demands of the Irish paper, a number of establishments, particularly high schools, stated that during the year they spent a considerable time in specially coaching the students for its requirements. This, they stated, would not have been necessary had the paper been based on secondary school, instead of university, standards. Embittered by their experience last year, other schools entered only a limited number of their more brilliant students for the examination.

With the exception of geography, which is still set on the basis of former years, the high standard of all the papers has been criticised.

Alleged Murder Of a Soldier

PRIVATE CHARLES DALY (20), stated to be a native of Clara, Offaly, succumbed to his injuries in Dungarvan Hospital on Wednesday night shortly after his admission, as a result of an attack by, it is stated, two civilians earlier that night.

It is alleged that Private Daly and another soldier were coming from the quay when they were set upon by two men, who were armed with heavy sticks. Daly received several head wounds.

The other soldier, who was also struck, but not seriously injured, raised the alarm, and ran for a distance. The attackers then made off before they could be apprehended. Daly was removed to the hospital, where he died about an hour afterwards.

TWO MEN CHARGED

At a Special Court at Dungarvan last night, before Mr. M. Morrissey, T.D., P.C., John Donovan, a labourer, of Cathal Brugha place, Dungarvan, and William Donoghue, labourer, no fixed abode, and at present residing at Cathal Brugha street, Dungarvan, were charged with the murder of Private Daly, and remanded in custody to Tipperary District Court on Tuesday next.

Penicillin For Irish Animals

The campaign for the production of penicillin at the Veterinary College, Ballsbridge, has begun. It is expected that in about four months enough of the drug will be available for the treatment of the different diseases in livestock. These diseases include mastitis, a disease of the udder in cows; various important diseases in horses, and many other animal diseases which have not yet responded to any other form of treatment.

In the course of an interview with an Irish Times reporter, Professor P. J. Mullaney, lecturer in bacteriology in the Veterinary College, expressed the view that the drug will be available for general use after it has had a satisfactory controlled trial in all the major conditions which affect livestock.

"The application of penicillin is two-fold," he said. "It is used externally in its crude form, and internally in its purified form. The latter product entails an elaborate procedure before an innocuous drug is available."

Professor Mullaney added that he did not know where the Irish Times got its news about the use of penicillin among livestock, published in yesterday's paper, but it was correct. The statement, however, that the drug would not be released to medical practitioners was apparently wrong in its conception. This, of course, should have read "the veterinary profession."

Pressed for information regarding the source of the original supply sent to the college, Professor Mullaney said that he would prefer not to mention the donor's name for the present. He hoped in the near future to see the drug used on an effective basis all over Ireland.

Motion To Break With N.H. Scheme

The question of the treatment of National Health patients in the South Infirmary, Cork, was discussed by the Committee of Management yesterday, when Mr. R. Wallace moved a resolution declaring it would serve no useful purpose to interfere in the private arrangements between the members of the medical staff and their patients.

He said that the doctors were treating 50 per cent. of the patients free, but there were people who hid their wealth behind a National Health form. The doctors were entitled to payment by those able to pay for their treatment.

The Rev. E. Fitzgerald, Adm., who presided, said that he must rule the resolution out of order, and added that the members could, if they wished, vote in another chairman at the next meeting.

Mr. R. Simcox said that the only honourable solution was to withdraw from the National Health scheme altogether. He gave notice of motion to this effect for the next meeting.

Manager For Dublin Port

At yesterday's meeting of the Dublin Port and Docks Board, on the proposal of the Chairman, Mr. T. O'Connor, a staff committee was appointed to make recommendations as to the conditions and salary for the proposed post of manager.

An Emergency Powers Order was received providing for continuance in office of the Board for another year.

The Chairman said that the Order really meant that, owing to the present shipping position, many of the present members were not qualified for membership of the Board, and the Order enabled them to remain in office for another year.

Unemployment Figures.—The number of persons registered at the Employment Exchanges on August 26th was 43,557, a reduction on the previous week of 693. In the corresponding period of last year the number registered was 48,667.

Sharp Rise In Guinness On Results

PUBLIC interest was at low ebb on the Dublin Stock Exchange yesterday. Despite the lack of business prices held up well, and inclined higher in places.

Guinness units claimed a fair measure of attention following the figures for the past year. There was good buying in progress, and they closed 1s. 9d. higher at 136s. 3d. Distillers Ord. changed hands at 103s. 9d.

J. G. Mooney Ord. spurted 4s. 1½d. to 75s., but May Roberts Ord. eased to 51s. Alliance Gas Ord. continued in favour and hardened to 24s. 7½d. The rest of the Irish Industrial group held steady.

Home Rails were small buyers and inclined higher. Great Northern Ord. recovered to 25½. Great Southern Ord. advanced to 57½ and the Deb. rose to 95, but the Pref. drooped to 57.

Home Funds were better in places. Agreement Loan and Security Loan marked fractional gains.

B.A.T. made headway to 121s., but Shell Transport Ord. eased to 85s. 6d.

A LUSTRUM OF WAR

Five years ago to-day the second World War began. What a wealth of history has been compressed into those short years! The Germans invaded Poland on Friday, September 1st; it was not until the following Sunday that the listening world was informed by the late Mr. Neville Chamberlain's memorable broadcast that Great Britain had declared war on Germany. A few hours later France followed suit. During the next eight months Europe experienced what the Americans describe as a "phoney" war. Both sides were girding up their loins for the real struggle. War really began in May, 1940, when the Germans invaded the Low Countries and overwhelmed the proud French Army, which paid for its pathetic belief in the Maginot Line by the most humiliating defeat in the history of the French nation. In the meantime, Polish resistance, gallant as it was, had been overcome. The whole world was startled by the almost incredible success of Germany's Blitzkrieg tactics. The British Army suffered what was admitted by Mr. Winston Churchill to be a bitter defeat; after it had been evacuated from Dunkirk, by virtue of Britain's supremacy at sea, the German Wehrmacht bestrode Western Europe, and the invasion of the United Kingdom seemed to be imminent. Germany's failure to embark upon this great adventure recalled Napoleon's failure more than a hundred years before. She undoubtedly lacked the necessary shipping; and, moreover, the Royal Air Force, fighting what must have seemed to be almost a forlorn hope, established an unexpected efficiency in the skies. France fell; and her fall seemed to be irretrievable. Then Germany attacked Russia, which had undergone what appeared to be a humiliating defeat at the hands of little Finland. Once again the tactics of the Blitzkrieg achieved astonishing success. The German armies swept through the Ukraine with almost unbelievable speed, driving the Red Army before them like chaff before a gale. They reached the Volga. Russian resistance appeared almost to be exhausted; but what had happened to Napoleon in 1812 happened again, and when Marshal von Paulus's Sixth Army was encircled at Stalingrad the Wehrmacht's long and costly retreat across the plains of Russia began. The Japanese struck at Pearl Harbour. Here the Americans were caught almost as badly napping as the British were caught at Singapore; but from that moment on the people of the United States were wholeheartedly in the war. The Lease-Lend arrangement, whereby they had been helping Great Britain and Russia, developed into active participation in five Continents. American troops and material began to pour into Great Britain in preparation for the establishment of that Second Front which the Russians had been urging since the Battle of Stalingrad. Meanwhile, the Battle of North Africa had been decided. The British and Americans invaded first, Sicily, and then the Italian mainland. Total war had become an accomplished fact.

Since then events have been chasing one another with breath-taking speed. The Russians have advanced from the Volga to the threshold of East Prussia, where they are menacing the cradle of the German Army, as they menaced it almost exactly thirty years ago. They have swept across Poland to the doors of Warsaw. In the south, they have driven Rumania out of the war; and were reported yesterday to have captured the vital oil-centre of Ploesti, which produces more than 2,000,000 metric tons of oil per annum, and is believed to have supplied Germany's armed forces with approximately one-third of its petrol requirements. As we write, Soviet troops are stated to have entered Bucharest. Bulgaria, which, as happened in the last war, has been one of Germany's Balkan allies, has decided to sue for peace; and it is reported that envoys from Sofia already have arrived in Cairo, where they will receive the Anglo-American terms. One of the many anomalies of this most remarkable of all wars is the fact that the Bulgars, while at war with Britain and the United
